Stakes Set for Paving of Road to Allen's Ferry

Gene Allen and your editor drove to Millwood Reservoir Wednesday afternoon to make some pictures of the hydraulic work on the down-river side of the dam—but on our way home we made a side trip which netted an equally good story.

Surveyor's stakes have been set for paving on the road to Allen's Ferry—which is good news to every fisherman or boatman who has gone over that tortuous trail towing a boat-trailer. I have no idea when actual hardtopping will begin but surveyor's stakes are significant.

As I recall, the original announcement that this road would be paved came from the Game & Fish Commission, but remained unconfirmed by the State Highway Commission. It would appear now that the two agencies have worked out an agreement for actual construction.

Allen and I went first to the U.S. Corps of Engineers office at Millwood and interviewed Jim Cyrus, resident engineer. He explained the work going on below the dam.

A deep hole in the river almost at the base of the dam has been enclosed with a coffer dam and water is being pumped out of this hole into the river. This work is necessary in order to expose the base of the dam to an examination by the Engineers. Allen took pictures of the whole operation, as you will observe in today's edition.

A closeup view is obtained by driving to the west end of the dam and then doubling back on the road that leads to a lookout point below the flood gates. That's where today's pictures were made.

Cold Front Moving in

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A rapidly moving cold front will drop temperatures to the freezing mark as it sweeps through the state today and tonight.

The front should reach Northwest Arkansas by early this afternoon and move on rapidly southward out of the state by about midnight.

The air mass behind the front is mainly from the North Pacific but appears cold enough to bring below freezing temperatures to the entire state by Friday night.

Skies are expected to remain clear to partly cloudy over the state through Friday.

Lows tonight will be in the upper 20s to upper 30s and highs Friday in the mid 40s north to the upper 50s south.

The highs Thursday ranged from 64 at Jonesboro to 62 at Texarkana.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 41; Harrison, 38; Jonesboro, 32; Pine Bluff, 32; Texarkana, 42; El Dorado, 32; Memphis, 29; Little Rock, 32; and Fort Smith, 35.

British Miners Trying to Block Supply of Oil

LONDON (AP) — Striking coal miners blockaded oil supplies from two of Britain's biggest refineries today in a bid to intensify power blackouts curbing industry, darkening homes and idling millions of workers.

To block supplies to oil-fed electricity generating plants, the miners threw up picket lines at the refineries on the Thames and Tees rivers, and railroad workers refused to cross them to transport the oil. Virtually no oil left the refineries.

Most of Britain's power plants run on coal, and their supplies are expected to be gone by the end of the month. Prime Minister Edward Heath's government is relying on oil-fueled stations to maintain at least 25 per cent of normal electricity output when the goal runs out.

With the nation's factories cut to half time because of the blackouts, three government mediators worked overtime in the hope of ending the strike that threatens to bring British industry to a halt in two weeks. The three-man court of inquiry headed by Lord Wilberforce was expected to announce its recommendations Friday for settling the six-week-old walk-out by 280,000 miners demanding higher pay.

Acceptance by the miners could end the strike by early next week. But Cabinet ministers were drawing up contingency plans for dealing with the national emergency if the miners reject the proposals.

There was talk of police action against miners stopping coal from entering the power stations and the use of troops to move coal stockpiled at the pitheads.

A group of 46 left-wing Laborites in Parliament warned that a general strike would "inevitably follow" any decision to call in the army.

In the worst blackouts since the World War II Blitz, millions of homes are without heat and light for three to 12 hours a day.

Electric train services have been drastically reduced in many parts of the country. Postal deliveries are cut as sorting offices try to cope without light. Milk and sugar are scarce. Breweries hint at beer rationing.

Mental patients in a Surrey County hospital became hysterical and set fire to their beds after their wards were plunged into darkness.

Newspaper Defies Order to Not Publish Verdict

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Circuit Court Judge John W. Goodson of Texarkana late Wednesday ordered the Texarkana Gazette-Daily News not to publish in this morning's edition the jury verdict returned Wednesday in a rape trial.

The jury found Eugene Sumler, 22, of Texarkana guilty of second-degree rape. He had been charged with assaulting a 13-year-old girl.

Goodson told Gazette reporter Tom Ayres in open court that he did not want the Sumler verdict to be ready by another jury that was to hear a related case today.

The jury that was to convene today was to begin hearing testimony in the trial of Miller Lee Paxton of Texarkana, who is charged with raping the same 13-year-old girl.

Goodson, contacted Wednesday night at his home by Harry Wood, executive editor of the Gazette, said if the newspaper published the story Wood could expect "to go to jail" for contempt of court.

The judge said he was ordering the newspaper not to publish the account of the trial until the second jury went into session this morning. He said the paper could print the story in its afternoon edition.

Wood said the story was in the morning edition. Goodson said he was aware that holding the newspaper in contempt possibly could result in litigation before the Arkansas Supreme Court and such a proceeding might decide the matter of fair trial-free press "once and for all."

The Arkansas Bar Association currently has before the Supreme Court a list of guidelines it proposes the court adopt for the press, law enforcement officers and court officials concerning pretrial publicity in criminal cases.

The Arkansas Press Association and Arkansas chapter of Sigma Delta Chi Monday filed a brief with the high court arguing that the rules would lead to "unjustified, undesirable and unconstitutional" restrictions on the press and the public's right to know.

The city wanted the land as easement for a sewer project. Dobertyn rejected its offer and the case went to court.

Local Plant Gets Safety Recognition

Director of Labor Dale Cline announced that the Safety Award of Merit, given by the Occupational Safety Division of the Arkansas Department of Labor, will be awarded Tuesday, February 22, 1972, to Hempstead Manufacturing Company in Hope.

This award recognizes a safety program which resulted in 190,976 man-hours without a disabling injury from July 1, 1970 to December 31, 1971.

Safety Consultant John Wilkins will present the framed award to Houston Gunter, Plant Superintendent of the company. The Occupational Safety Division has instituted these awards in the belief that working safety should be recognized and rewarded. This company is to be congratulated for its safety efforts over the period of one and one-half (1½) years.

Inquiries about the Safety Program of the Arkansas Department of Labor may be directed to Benjamin Davis, Supervisor of the Occupational Safety Division, Arkansas Department of Labor, Capitol Hill Building, Little Rock.

Egg Producers Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says hard-pressed poultry and egg producers can expect some benefits this year because of consumer resistance to higher retail prices for beef and pork.

"Stronger poultry and egg prices are likely during 1972. Prices will be bolstered by increased consumer incomes, higher red meat prices and substantially lower pork supplies," the Outlook and Situation Board said Wednesday.

But egg prices, particularly,

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A jury awarded Henry Dobertyn $18,500 Wednesday for a 25-foot-wide parcel of land. The City of Akron had offered him $1.

have been major headaches for producers. In mid-January farm egg prices averaged 29.8 cents per dozen, four cents less than in November and six cents lower than a year earlier, the report said.

"Prices of eggs are expected to strengthen in coming weeks as demand picks up for Easter and output eases relative to a year earlier. Prices may again decline seasonally in the spring before strengthening as usual during the last half of 1972," officials said.

A "moderate" increase in broiler production is forecast, partly in response to lower feed prices, the report said. Broiler chicken prices, down last fall, improved early in 1972.

Wholesale broiler prices in major city markets averaged 27.1 cents per pound in January, up three cents from December and one cent more than a year earlier, the report said.

"Smaller pork supplies, increased consumer incomes and high beef and pork prices will tend to support broiler prices this year," the report stressed.

Accused Man Found Sane

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Officials at the State Hospital said Wednesday that John C. Jones, 30, of North Little Rock, who is charged with first-degree murder in the death of his wife, was without psychosis and subject to trial.

Jones is free under $5,000 bond, but the prosecuting attorney's office said it would seek a hearing to determine if Jones should be held in jail without bond.

President Departs for Visit to China

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, his wife and a handful of top aides left today on a "journey for peace" to Communist China, saying he hopes it will reduce the possibility of a future war.

The presidential jet, the "Spirit of '76," took off from Andrews Air Force Base on the first long leg of the trip at 10:30 a.m.

Some 1,000 area school children were recruited by their teachers to show up for the first step in the first journey by any American president to China.

Some teachers confused the occasion with the traditional White House welcome for visiting heads of state and instructed students to place their hands over their hearts during playing of the Star Spangled Banner and the Chinese anthem.

The White House said this was all a mistake, that there would be no band.

The Nixons are due in China Feb. 21 and will leave there Feb. 28—the longest time any chief executive has devoted to a single country since Woodrow Wilson went to Europe at the end of World War I.

Prior to his departure, Nixon summoned to the White House the Democratic and Republican leaders of Congress and ranking members of such potent committees as Foreign Affairs, Armed Services and Appropriations.

By closeting himself with the legislators until the virtual moment of departure from the executive mansion, Nixon insured himself of a bipartisan farewell.

From the White House, the President and his wife were bound for nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md., and a 10-hour nonstop flight to Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station in Hawaii.

Flying to China with Nixon were Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Henry A. Kissinger, the President's assistant for national-security affairs, who set the stage for the trip with a secret early-summer flight to Peking.

Hughes Leaves Midway in Bahamas

By KENNETH GEFFERT
Associated Press Writer
NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Billionaire recluse Howard Hughes has moved out of his hotel midway here and may have left the Bahamas in secrecy, sources said today.

An official of Paradise Island Limited said Hughes may have left the island last weekend with a few members of his staff.

Paradise Island Limited owns and operates the Britannia Beach Hotel, where the 66-year-old industrialist has been reported living in seclusion since leaving Las Vegas, Nev., on Thanksgiving Eve in 1970. Hughes has not been seen publicly since 1963.

One source said the 66-year-old industrialist might be headed for Mexico.

The Paradise Island official said several members of Hughes' staff, who remained at the hotel, "were escorted to the airport and asked to leave the country by (Bahamas) immigration officials Tuesday afternoon."

Immigration officials at Nassau could not be reached for comment.

Baltron Bethel, a senior Bahamian government official, said Hughes himself had not been ordered to leave the island.

But when asked whether any members of Hughes' staff had been asked to leave, Bethel replied: "Mr. Hughes' staff like any other staff of anyone else, must comply with immigration rules and procedures of the Bahamas."

Bombers End 2 Days of Raids

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes ended two days of heavy bombing inside North Vietnam today after about 150 strikes against newly installed long-range artillery guns and anti-aircraft defenses.

Scores more raids were flown against enemy positions in Laos and South Vietnam, but the heavy attack against North Vietnam forced the U.S. Command to cut back the aerial campaign in South Vietnam.

The command reported its bombers destroyed five artillery guns inside North Vietnam, two surface-to-air missile launchers and other equipment in southern Laos and five trucks in the northwest corner of South Vietnam. Pilots also reported triggering a dozen secondary explosions and two fires in raids south of the DMZ, indicating hits on ammunition stores.

The strikes into North Vietnam a few hours before President Nixon's departure for Communist China were the heaviest since more than 1,000 raids were flown against the North Dec. 26-30.

The U.S. Command announced that pilots ran into multiple barrages of surface-to-air missiles and anti-aircraft artillery fire, and one Air Force F4 was shot down. It was the first loss over the North since December. The two crewmen were listed as missing.

Radio Hanoi claimed that North Vietnamese forces shot down two planes, "killing and capturing" a number of airmen.

The raids were concentrated in the northeastern quarter of the demilitarized zone and inside North Vietnam. Some were just north of the buffer strip.

The U.S. Command said initial reports indicate that five artillery guns were destroyed or damaged.

A spokesman said the guns were Soviet 130mm artillery pieces with a range of more than 16 miles, the most powerful North Vietnam has.

"These strikes were necessary to counter a threat to the security of remaining U.S. forces posed by the introduction of these new offensive weapons into the area," said a statement from the headquarters of Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, the U.S. commander.

Spokesmen acknowledged that there are only a handful of American advisers and technicians at South Vietnamese bases along the DMZ within the range of the enemy artillery. But "you have to look at the threat in a broad context," said one U.S. military source. "They could use these guns to help overrun Quang Tri which would be a threat to U.S. personnel."

All Around Town

A year end report shows that Hope City Police drove a total of 122,464 miles while on patrol duty during 1971.

Five Hope residents are student teaching in area school systems, according to Dr. Frank Irwin, chairman of the division of education at Southern State College. Included are Nelda Salisbury Bullock teaching in the Waldo System. Helen McCorkle teaching in the Magnolia System. Clayton McNeil and Ricky Smith, both teaching in the Emerson System, and Diane Dupree teaching in the Texarkana, Arkansas high school system.

Hempstead County Singing Convention meets February 20 at 1:30 p.m. at the Assembly of God Church, one mile north of McCaskill on old Highway 24. There will be some special groups, plenty of good class singings and everyone is invited.

Harold Duke is president, Ruvel Bright is vice-president and LuVega Worthy is secretary-treasurer.

El Dorado Charity League will sponsor its second annual Antique Show and Sale at the TAC House, El Dorado, March 3-4-5 with Emily Grist of Emily's Antiques, Memphis as manager of the show. Dealers from nine states have leased space.

Rufus C. Ritchie, State Plumbing Inspector, Arkansas State Health Department, will meet with the Plumbing Class at Red River Vocational Tech school Thursday at 7 p.m. He will discuss the State Plumbing Code with the class, area plumbers and pipefitters.

Red Goodner and the Country Boys with Nancy Camp will be at Willisville High School Saturday night, Feb. 19, sponsored by the Girls Senior Basketball team.

Bumpers Didn't Escape With Program Intact

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Although Gov. Dale Bumpers did not escape with his special session program intact, the Arkansas Legislature approved practically all of it in one form or another before adjourning Wednesday.

The governor thanked the legislators for "easily the most productive special session in the history of this state."

"You will be able to go back with your heads high in your local communities for the job you've done," Bumpers said.

He said many legislators had counseled against the special session, but that "you have done a very great service for the people."

Bumpers considered the capstone of the session the enactment of legislation to enable the state to obtain an estimated $26 million additional federal funds in the next 18 months to expand the state's programs for the mentally and physically handicapped. Most of the new program will be operated at the community level.

It includes conversion of vacant facilities at the Booneville Tuberculosis Sanatorium for programs for the adult mentally retarded.

The governor said the new social service legislation—which he had said was the chief reason for summoning the special session—would have "the most far-reaching effects" of any program that had been approved in recent years.

Legislators agreed with favorable assessment of the session. Rep. B. D. "Doug" Brandon of Little Rock said the legislature's labors might be of some political benefit to incumbents who will be seeking re-election this year.

"I think the people are pleased with the way the General Assembly has worked," Brandon said. "...The General Assembly has shown a better side than they are used to and the public is reacting to it."

Besides the social services program, other major legislation the governor pushed through virtually intact included bills to create a group hospital and medical insurance program for an estimated 16,000 state employees to fund a loan scholarship program for medical students who promise to go into rural practice, to expand the family practice division of the University of Arkansas Medical Center and to increase from $32 million to $40 million the amount of idle state funds that may be invested in government securities.

Bumpers had pledged himself to a noncontroversial call, but there was controversy. One of the charged issues that arose—a delay of the July 1 merger of Arkansas AM&N College into the University of Arkansas—he did not include in the call for the session because, he said, it was controversial.

But a group of East Arkansas senators got the Senate to vote on a postponement after about 500 AM&N students called at the Capitol to lobby for a repeal of the merger. The senators' effort failed.

Another controversy erupted over the governor's comprehensive drug control bill, but the division was mostly over how tough it should be and not over the objective. Bumpers did not win approval of his own legislation, but the General Assembly approved two separate bills, drafted by an ad hoc committee of legislators, that contained essentially what the governor desired, according to his aides.

The administration's companion bill to create a Drug Abuse Authority to coordinate the state's antidrug campaign was approved.

But the governor had to accept modifications in other major pieces of legislation.

The legislature shifted to May 30 and June 13 the June 13 and June 27 dates Bumpers had proposed for the first and second primary elections. It made the filing period from March 14 to April 4, whereas Bumpers had proposed March 28 to April 18. The legislators agreed with Bumpers to repeal the mandatory popular election of 80 per cent of a party's national convention delegates and allow the parties to choose their own methods of selecting delegates.

The governor proposed a $10 million revenue bond issue to help communities take advantage of a proposed increase in federal financing of sewer system improvements, but the legislature amended the bill to appropriate $3 million from state funds rather than issue the bonds.

At the urging of Republicans, Bumpers requested repeal of a requirement that election officials reside in the precincts they serve. But the legislature voted to retain the requirement for most counties, exempting only those with a population of 50,000 or more. In these, the election commissions would have to decide unanimously that resident officials could not be found before assigning non-residents to a precinct.

The only call item on which no bill was passed was a $282,000 appropriation to the secretary of state's office to help finance the installation of an underground electrical system on the Capitol grounds.

The measure was allowed to die in the Senate because of a House amendment requiring Secretary of State Kelly Bryant—the custodian of the Capitol complex—to open bids on the work in the presence of the governor, the state auditor and the state treasurer. Bryant reportedly did not want the bill because of the amendment.

Rep. Rudy Moore of Springdale had proposed the amendment, apparently as a result of a recent ruling by Circuit Court Judge Warren E. Wood of Little Rock that held that Bryant erred in disallowing the apparent low bids on three state printing contracts on grounds the bids were technically defective.

Wood said, however, that he had no power to change Bryant's decision.

Moore's amendment would have allowed the low bidder on the electrical work to seek injunctive relief if he did not receive the contract.

3 Found in Tulsa With Throats Cut

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Bodies of a 21-year-old mother, her young daughter and son—their throats apparently slashed—were found in their North Tulsa home Wednesday night.

Police identified them as Marie Eileen Castleberry, Richard Alan, 2, and Brenda Lee, 5. Their deaths were discovered by Kenneth Ray Castleberry, 21, the husband and father.

He told police he arrived home from work about 6 p.m. and couldn't get into the front door because the screen was locked from inside. He went to the back of the small frame house and kicked in the door.

Castleberry found the partly clad body of his wife in the kitchen floor. The children lay on their beds in separate bedrooms.

Medical authorities said the children's throats were slashed with a "sharp instrument" but there was some question how the woman died.

Lt. Bill Jones, chief detective on the night shift, would not say how long the three had been dead.

Castleberry was questioned by police and taken to a hospital for a sedative, then helped to the home of friends for an overnight stay.

He is employed by Need-wum Tire Co.

Capt. Harvey Sollars, chief of detectives, told reporters the deaths were homicide. He said the killer apparently entered the house by forcing a kitchen window.

Humphrey Does Well With Labor Groups

By MICHAEL PUTZEL
Associated Press Writer

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, who suffered some recent setbacks in efforts to hold on to his traditional support from organized labor, is running ahead of other presidential hopefuls in three polls of key AFL-CIO local leaders and has won endorsement from a union leaders' meeting in Minnesota, his home state.

The AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE) revealed results Wednesday of polls it took among conference delegates in Atlanta, Dallas, Cincinnati and Florida. Humphrey led but received less than a majority in the three cities, with Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine running from less than 2 to 13 percentage points behind and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington third.

Jackson led in the Florida poll, followed by Humphrey, Muskie and Gov. George Wallace of Alabama. All are running as Democrats.

President Nixon received less than 1 per cent in the three city polls and no delegate votes in Florida.

In Minneapolis, where Humphrey told a meeting of 300 union business agents from Minneapolis-St. Paul that "I am your champion," the officers endorsed him by acclamation.

AFL-CIO President George

Meany said only a day earlier that Humphrey had "not a chance" of getting the labor federation's endorsement before the Democratic National Convention in July.

In another development Wednesday, the Michigan Senate passed and sent to the governor a House-approved bill to hold a state presidential primary May 16. The measure has the endorsement of Gov. William G. Milliken, who is expected to sign it soon.

When the Michigan bill becomes law, the state will be the 24th in the nation with a presidential primary, and Texas will be the only one of the 10 largest states that does not hold a primary test of presidential hopes.

A California Poll released Wednesday said Muskie was leading other announced candidates for the Democratic nomination with 28 per cent of the votes of those polled. Humphrey got 23 per cent, and the other candidates received less than 10 per cent each.

Asked which candidate, if nominated, would be most difficult to vote for, 56 per cent said Wallace and 51 per cent said Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles.

When the polling agency added Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, a sworn noncandidate, to the field, he outran Muskie 24 per cent to 23.

Execution in Ireland

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer

BELFAST (AP) — Terrorists in Northern Ireland executed a part-time militiaman and killed another British soldier Wednesday night, raising the province's death toll in 2½ years of religious-political violence to at least 245.

Thomas Callaghan, a Catholic member of the mostly Protestant Ulster Defense Regiment, was dragged from the bus he was driving in Londonderry's Creggan District as his passengers screamed. The gunmen bundled him into a car, shot him through the head and dumped his body at the edge of a road on the other side of the city.

The soldier died in Belfast when terrorists riddled a jeep with machine-gun fire. He was the 51st British soldier killed in Northern Ireland.

In two other incidents in the capital, a sniper shot and wounded a British paratrooper on his first day of duty in the province, and terrorists blew up a tire depot on the city's north side. The gunmen allowed the workers to leave the depot before planting the bomb, and there were no casualties.

Earlier Wednesday, a bomb was found aboard the ferry Duke of Argyll as it was bringing 300 British soldiers and an equal number of civilians to Belfast from England. The 40-pound suitcase bomb, powerful enough to destroy a five-story building, was found half an

2 Americans Killed in War Past Week

SAIGON (AP) — Two Americans were killed in action and 28 were wounded in the Vietnam war last week, the U.S. Command announced today. The South Vietnamese command said 360 of its troops were killed, about 60 more than the average for the last six months.

Another four Americans died from nonhostile causes, the U.S. Command said.

The heavy South Vietnamese casualties also included 948 wounded and reflected a high-point in ground activity that was the most intense since October. It was a prelude to the Tet festival of the lunar new year this week.

Enemy losses for the week were put at 1,105 killed, 200 less than the week before, and 128 captured.

It was the eighth consecutive week that the weekly casualty summary reported fewer than six U.S. battle deaths.

The allied commands now have reported these total casu-

American Dollar Hits New Low in Europe

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. dollar hit record lows in France, West Germany and Switzerland today, but improved slightly in Britain.

The dollar's general weakness resulted from a selling wave that began Wednesday with reports of a record U.S. balance-of-payments deficit last year. It intensified when U.S. Treasury Secretary John B. Connally ruled out the dollar's convertibility into gold this year.

Connally's announcement confirmed an expected U.S. policy, but still touched off a wave of dollar sales on European foreign exchanges.

The only major exception was London where threats of a nationwide industrial shutdown from electric power cuts weakened the pound sterling against the dollar.

The dollar's fall intensified a general weakening of U.S. currency on foreign devaluation Dec. 18.

Dealers have attributed the weakness to doubts that the December agreement in Washington and other currency realignments may not be enough to resolve the Western world's trade and monetary difficulties or put America's balance of payments in the black.

Despite the fall, the dollar is still well above the danger point that would threaten another devaluation. Since December it has been allowed to float 2.25 per cent above or below a parity or central exchange rate against major currencies. In most cases the dollar is now slightly under the central rate having fallen from 2 per cent or more above.

Maintenance of Hope School Buses Studied

The Auxiliary Sub-committee of the Citizens Committee For Better Quality Schools met Tuesday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Shields.

Other members attending were Chairman Bill Gunter, Mrs. J.D. Felder, Mrs. Tom Buchholzer, Mrs. Elaine Burch, Mrs. Tom Duncan, Troy Buck, Wesley Huddleston and Mr. and Mrs. Shields.

The committee studied information on maintenance of school buses in Hope as compared to three other schools.

The question arose of whether Hope could save money if the school district owned its own shop and employed mechanics to repair buses.

Investigating the three schools, Arkadelphia, Nashville and Crossett who own their own shop and hire mechanics, it was found that Hope, with 24 buses, operates as cheap or cheaper as the three schools mentioned.

Arkadelphia, with 21 buses, spends $16,900 per year on labor alone, or $805 per unit labor. This does not include operating cost which includes salaries or investment in the shop.

In Crossett, the school has an investment of $50,000 in their shop, runs 20 buses and has an operating cost of $2,476 per unit. They pay $110 per month for drivers.

Nashville has a per unit operating cost of $3,034 for 11 buses and pays one mechanic $6,000.00. Investment of money in their shop could not be secured.

Hope School District 1-A operates 24 buses at a cost of $2,480 per unit per school year. Drivers are paid $155.00 for full day; two people divide a route on several buses which is $77.50 each. It was noted that if Hope paid $110 per driver, as Crossett does, the cost would be $2120 per unit. All figures above are based on annual cost.

Regarding the overcrowding of buses, figures show the average is 80 students per every 66 passenger bus. This condition causes both safety and discipline problems. A minimum of five new buses is needed in order to bring this down to normal capacity. The cost would be approximately $40,000.00 or $8,000.00 per bus.

The committee also found

Wednesday, February 23

Hope Junior Auxiliary will meet at the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday, February 23, at 10 a.m.

The Executive Board will meet at 9:30 a.m.

Hope Duplicate

The Hope Duplicate Bridge Club had 4 tables of players when it met at the Diamond on Monday night, February 14. Mrs. Lloyd Spencer and Mrs. George Robison were the first place couple when the scoring was completed.

In second place were Mrs. R.L. Broach and Mrs. E.J. Whitman, while R.L. Broach and Dr. George Wright placed third.

Hope Tops

TOPS No. 94 Ar. Hope met at the Douglas Building Monday night, February 14 with 30 present. There were three new members, Mildred McClellan, Kay Chambliss and Virginia O'Neal. Barbara Arnold was crowned Queen of the Week.

For the program Sheila Halsell discussed "How Food Affects You" and used pictures to illustrate her talk. Mrs. Pearl Owen of Shreveport and Marilyn Smith of Fulton were guests for the evening.

Juliana Vines led in repeating the creed and in singing a song: Margaret Polk read the minutes of the last meeting; and while presiding, Doris Warden issued an invitation to attend the Monday night meetings to anyone interested in losing weight.

Circle No. 2

Circle No. 2, of the W.S.C.S. met Monday, February 14, at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. B.W. Edwards.

Cookies, coffee or spiced tea were served.

Mrs. Louise McEmore, circle chairman, presided over the business session, and dues were collected.

A very interesting program was given in "How Can We Give To God?" by Mrs. Louise McEmore. The meeting was closed by prayer.

Circle 4 W.S.C.S. Meets

Circle No. 4, W.S.C.S. of the First United Methodist Church met Monday, February 14, in the home of Mrs. Steven Bader.

The meeting was opened with the group repeating the Lords Prayer in unison. Mrs. Bader, Circle Chairman, conducted the business meeting and announced that the Day of Prayer and Self Denial will be held at the church March 20 at 10 A.M. Plans for the making of Articles to help the School of Hope were discussed. Mrs. W.W. Oglesby, Devotional Program Chairman, presented the program which was taken from the 4th Chapter of Matthew and the Sermon on the Mount.

The hostess served coffee, cakes, and cookies to the 15 members.

Circle 3 W.S.C.S. Meets

Circle 3, met in the home of Mrs. John Vesey with 13 members present.

The leader, Mrs. A.M. Hewitt opened the meeting with all repeating the Lord's Prayer after which a business session was held with roll call and Mrs. Thelma Harrell was instructed to send cards to eight "shut in" members. City wide Day of Prayer was also discussed, and on March 21 Day of Prayer is being held in Mena, Ark. Volunteer Workers were requested for School of Hope from hours of 9:30 to 11 a.m. each week.

The Circle discussed means and ways of making money for furnishing the kitchen in the new church; it was decided instead of serving refreshments at each monthly meeting to give a certain amount in cash and sacrifice refreshments.

Mrs. Johnie Green brought a very inspiring program on Love using 13 Chapter of 1 Cor. It was brought out that love is a universal language, and stressed using the little words "I love you" in our everyday living.

The hostess served cherry pie and whipped cream, nuts, and hot tea to all present.

Coming, Going

Among those from Hope attending the production, "Company," in Little Rock Saturday night were Mrs. T.S. McDavitt, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Becherer, Mr. and Mrs. William Routon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert LaGrone, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Foster, Luther Hollamon and Martin Pool, Jr.

Attending the Senior Voice Recital of John King and the reception that followed at Ouachita Baptist University February 15 were Mr. and Mrs. Frank King and Mrs. Homer Beyerley.

Mrs. Velma Mallen, a fellow MS'er from Southern Missouri, and Mr. Mallen, paid a surprise visit to Mary Anita Laseter on Wednesday. They had not seen one another for 22 years, since they had met in an MS Clinic in Tacoma, Wash.

The Roy Wrays of Little Rock spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wray.

Mr. and Mrs. Zeb Stone, Dallas, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Easterling.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — officers Malloy and Reed of "Adam 12" uncovered a smuggled shipment of marijuana early Wednesday night. A short time later, Dr. Joe Gannon of "Medical Center" got mixed up with some grim business involving a drug theft. And, following that, "Mannix" was on the trail of a man suspected of killing a pusher.

The drug scene continues to provide fodder for series writers; so much so that the drug traffic has become almost a TV cliché.

"Medical Center," on CBS, is not often involved in heavy-handed melodrama as in its most recent episode. That one was pure "Mod Squad" stuff—bad guys robbing the hospital drug supplies and then trying to kill a girl whose keys they had stolen.

Most weeks, "Medical Center" is rather crisp and cool, concentrating on the drama

An expert doesn't need to bother with the code word ARCH. It is automatic for him to analyze the lead. Review the bidding. Count his winners and losers and finally ask himself, "How can I make or defeat this contract?"

Of course, the last depends on whether or not he is declarer.

South wins the diamond lead and plays out his ace and king of trumps. The queen doesn't drop so he can't claim seven. As it is he has to scramble for six.

How can he make the contract? Easy! All he has to do is to play hearts and clubs and if West has to follow long enough South is rid of his diamond losers.

If South stops his thinking there, he goes after clubs. West trumps the third club and South explains how unlucky he is.

If South takes the trouble to think the whole play out he notes that he has no play for his contract unless West has at least three hearts. Then South starts on hearts, not clubs.

East shows out on the third heart so South can cash dummy's fourth heart. Then he works on clubs and gets rid of his last diamond loser on the third club.

Suppose hearts were 3-3. Then South would go after surrounding accident and disease. This week surgery was only incidental.

It was a real change of pace for the show although not much of a one for the viewer. Television these nights is getting so full of scary crime that the viewer, instead of relaxing, is often tempted to check the door locks during commercials.

The viewing public is about to become a legion of China-watchers. The television networks are going all out to cover President Nixon's trip to Peking, with top reporters, lots of equipment and plenty of air time.

20 Seniors Inducted Into Honor Society

New members include, first row, Nan Arnold, Mary Jackson, Patricia Pree, Terri Jones, and Beverly Smith. Second row, Sandy Flowers, Susan Reardon, Peggy Praytor, Paula Poindexter, Georgia Brewer, and Shirley Benton.

Twenty seniors were inducted into the National Honor Society in a special assembly at Hope High School on January 31. The theme was "You Are a Child in the Universe." These twenty were chosen by a vote of all high school teachers based on the qualifications of character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

Principal Bobby Whitmarsh began the program with a short address. Old members, who were chosen last spring, entered in a candlelight procession. Jim Browning, Steve Routon, and Kim Kawakami narrated the song "The Desiderata," upon which the theme was based. Ben Downs gave a short speech on the qualifications of an NHS member.

Names of the new members were called, and the nominees came to the stage where they received a ribbon signifying their selection. They signed the NHS roll and were presented with a membership pin. Jim Browning, President, swore in the twenty. Principal Whitmarsh closed the assembly by accepting them.

The stage was decorated by a hanging sun and stars, a glittering earth, and large letters spelling out the theme. Mary Jane Reyenga and Sandra McFarland were in charge of decorations, while Ben Downs was in charge of writing the program. Tim Gunter played the piano.

NHS officers include Jim Browning, President; Ralph Martin, Vice President; Mary Jane Reyenga, Secretary; and

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Excess Anxiety Explains Problem

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have a very embarrassing problem. Every time I get ready to go out or do go out or just have close friends or relatives in for a visit, I am in the bathroom with diarrhea. This happens almost every time. I can't go shopping without having to go home and use the bathroom. I am only 27 years old and it is really wasting my young years.

My poor husband has to go places alone as I can't make it. I have been to the doctor and had complete physicals and X rays and he says I am in excellent health and that it is my nerves. O.K., I realize it is my nerves, but I don't want to sit home the rest of my life.

I have two small children and they like to go places, but we can't go anywhere. My neighbors think I don't like them because I never go to their house. I know where every bathroom in town is. I thought maybe I could go to a psychiatrist but really can't afford one and I don't know if it could help me and it is just an embarrassing problem. I am at my wits end and it is making a wreck of me. Please try to help me.

Dear Reader—It probably is your nerves, as you have stated. The most likely explanation for this type of problem is an excess amount of anxiety. The bowels easily respond to anxiety and diarrhea is a typical response. You know the triggering mechanism is contact with other people, but why you should have this type of problem requires a little more searching to discover. Then there is the question of overcoming it. I really would recommend going to a psychiatrist for help if you can possibly do so. It might not take too long or too much effort to be able to work through your problem and to enable you to be less anxious about contacts with people.

There are a few things which add to the difficulty and you might make sure they are not a contributory factor. Many people cannot tolerate the lactose in milk and milk products. This is a straight chemical problem and the usual manifestation is diarrhea. Why don't you stop using milk and all forms of any dairy products or any foods made with any milk for a few weeks and see what happens to your diarrhea?

You'll know within a few weeks whether this is a problem or not, because you will be remarkably free of symptoms which sound like they have been all too frequent. If it isn't the answer then you won't have lost anything either. Of course, you should avoid all the different foods that you know upset your digestive system and you should avoid coffee. I hope some of these measures will help, and I would strongly recommend trying them. I really think you should make a big effort to see a psychiatrist, however.

Elegant Heir in Feature

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Elegant Heir, owned by Robert Ballis and ridden by Lonnie Ray, heads a field of 12 other four-year-olds and upward in today's $10,000 feature at Oaklawn Park.

Elegant Heir will carry 122 pounds over the one mile and 70 yards.

Others carrying 122 pounds will be Lionized, Kiss and Run and Prince Frib.

At 116 pounds in the allowance event will be Defector, Jere Jet, Repleate, Four N Ski Pango Moon and Fleet to Market. Entered with 113 pounds are Errullah and Bixa and light-weighted at 111 pounds is Goodsense.

Hustlin Greek defeated a field of seven other colts and fillies to win the $6,500 feature purse at Oaklawn Wednesday.

Hustlin Greek, ridden by David White, sprinted the fast six furlongs in 1:12.5 and returned $2.80, $2.40 and $2.20.

Helen Russell's Kingdom's Prince came in second to pay $3.20 and $2.80 and Elizabeth L. finished third to pay $4.60.

Choctaw Gray with David Wells aboard, winner of the first race, and Somegoer, ridden by Larry Snyder in the second, combined for a daily double of $52.60. The numbers were 2 and 2.

The crowd of 9,576 wagered $668,907.

Lattin had 26 and Skeeter Swift 21 for the Condors.

Utah jumped off to a 48-34 lead over the Nets midway through the second period, but New York fought back and went ahead 76-75 in the third quarter. A bucket by Willie Wise regained the lead for Utah, however, and the Stars never again trailed.

Red Robbins topped Utah with 28 points and 18 rebounds. Zelmo Beaty scored 25, Wise had 21, Jimmy Jones 17 and Merv Jackson 16.

Unranked Lions Stun Virginia

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"We did what we had to do and did it well," Penn State Coach John Bach said after his unranked Nittany Lions stunned No. 6 Virginia 86-74.

Howard White of 19th-rated Maryland knew what he had to do, too, Wednesday night—and did it just as well, sinking a pair of free throws with seven seconds remaining in overtime to sink third-ranked North Carolina 79-77.

Unbeaten Marquette, listed behind only UCLA in The Associated Press' nationwide college basketball poll, averted an upset by waking up in the second half to overtake Jacksonville 88-79 for victory No. 21.

Two other Top Ten teams came out on top as expected, seventh-ranked South Carolina edging Nevada-Las Vegas 84-81 and Marshall, No. 10, turning back Ohio University 96-76.

"It was just like playing in the Atlantic Coast Conference," said Bill Gibson, coach of Virginia's vanquished Cavaliers.

"It was so noisy the players couldn't even hear me on the bench. The Lions took the lead for good at 44-43 with 12:45 remaining, then slowly widened it as Virginia repeatedly fouled to get the ball back. Ron Brown paced Penn State, now 13-7, with 25 points. Barry Parkhill had 20 to top Virginia, losing its second game in 20.

Bob McAdoo of the Tar Heels sank a field goal with 29 seconds left in regulation play to tie Maryland but missed a 25-footer the chance they needed to raise their record to 17-3.

And White took advantage of it. After making just one point on four one-and-one free throw situations in regulation time, he hit all four of his free throws and one field goal to hand North Carolina its third loss in 20 games.

White finished with 19 points to back up Maryland scoring leader Tom McMillen's 27. McAdoo had 17 to top the Tar Heels.

Jacksonville led Marquette 65-60 early in the second half before the Warriors outscored the Dolphins 18-4, then ran delay patterns to sew up their 71st consecutive home-court triumph. Jim Chones had 23 points and Bob Lackey 21 for Marquette. Ernie Fleming's 21 topped Jacksonville.

The Fighting Gamecocks of South Carolina had a tougher time than expected against Nevada-Las Vegas. Rick Adytelle scored 22 and Tom Rikder had 17 for South Carolina but it took Kevin Joyce's three free throws in the final 47 seconds to lock it up. Bob Florence of NLV led everybody with 26 points.

Tyrone Collins scored 26 points, Russell Lee had 25 and Randy Noll 21 to lead Marshall, which ran off strings of eight and nine points against outclassed Ohio to boost its record to 20-2.

"We were quicker than they were," said Thundering Herd Coach Carl Tacy. "It made the big difference. We did some things better tonight than we have all year." And Ohio Coach Jim Snyder agreed: "We just don't have the quickness to play with them."

In other major Wednesday night games, St. Bonaventure bombed St. Francis, N.Y., 94-58. St. Louis upended North Texas State 88-75. Syracuse rallied to take Bucknell 91-74 and Villanova shelled Duquesne 102-81.

The Bonnies, hampered by St. Francis' slowdown tactics, trailed most of the first half and eked out a mere 22-21 intermission lead, then ran haywire with a 72-point second half, led by Paul Hoffman and Glenn Price, who finished with 25 apiece.

The Billikens outscored North Texas State 16-2 midway in the first half, were led by Harry Rogers' 26 points as they raised their record to 17-4.

The Orangemen, now 16-5, trailed the Bisons 50-44 at the

Bright Star Defeats Saratoga at Blevins

Bright Star, the team that upset favored Waldo in the first round, defeated a determined Saratoga team 69 to 62 in the Area 13-B district tournament at Blevins last night.

In other games Garland edged Willisville 55 to 50; Magnolia Walker downed Okolona 88 to 67 and Emerson defeated Amity 78 to 51.

Games Thursday pairs Cale and Magnolia Walker at 5 p.m.; Bright Star will tangle with McNeil at 6:15 p.m.; Host Blevins meets Oak Grove at 7:30 p.m.; and Emerson plays Garland at 8:45 p.m.

Bright Star had to come from behind to manage a 40 to 33 halftime lead which they maintained the rest of the way. However, Saratoga kept fighting back, refusing to give up. Willie Larry led scorers with 26 points. Saratoga's top scorers were Ray Scott with 17, Charles Caldwell 15 and Van Neil with 10.

Willisville made a game of it with 10 straight points in the closing quarter to tie it up, but Garland pulled ahead and went on to win. Jimmy Davis led Garland with 25 points and Kenny Hicks had 18 for the losers.

The Magnolia Walker-Okolona game was no contest and the Columbia County team was never headed. Johnson led the winners with 25 points.

Okolona's Raymond Welch led his team in a losing effort with 20 points.

Emerson had very little trouble to roll up a 78 point effort against Amity's 51.

Football Hall of Fame

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — Angelo Bertelli, Notre Dame quarterback, and the late Bruce Smith, Minnesota halfback, both Heisman Trophy winners, were among 10 former collegiate stars named today to the National Football Foundation's College Hall of Fame.

The electees, announced by Vincent dePaul Draddy, chairman of the board, also included six other backs and two linemen.

The other inductees scheduled for induction at the 15th annual Football Hall of Fame Awards Dinner, Dec. 5 in New York are: Malcolm Aldrich, Yale halfback; Bob Fenimore, Oklahoma State back; Robert Hamilton, Stanford halfback; Mort Kaer, Southern California back; William Morton, Dartmouth quarterback; Charles O'Rourke, Boston College quarterback; the late Bowden Wyatt, Tennessee end, and Joe Stydahar, West Virginia tackle.

Bertelli, 51, called signals for the Irish from 1941-43, but interrupted his college career to enter the Marine Corps. He presently is in business in New Jersey and broadcasts Princeton games in the fall. He won the Heisman Trophy in 1943.

"Boo" Smith, who died in 1967, won the Heisman Trophy and All-American honors in 1941. A native of Minnesota, he died of cancer at 47.

MONTREAL (AP) — Earl Ingarfield, longtime National Hockey League forward, has been appointed a scout in Western Canada for the Long Island Islanders, Bill Torrey, general manager of the new franchise, said Wednesday.

Ingarfield, current coach of the Regina Pats of the Western Canada Junior Hockey League, is the first appointee by Torrey.

Mets Sign Seaver to $120,000 Pact

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Mets have satisfied Tom Seaver's 1972 contract demands but it will take a little more effort for the Los Angeles Dodgers and Philadelphia Phillies to do the same for Frank Robinson and Rick Wise.

Seaver agreed to exercise his valuable right arm for $120,000 this season, making the 27-year-old pitcher the highest paid baseball player in New York history. And that includes people like Babe Ruth, Joe DiMaggio and Mickey Mantle.

But the Dodgers came up about $10,000 short on their first offer to Robinson, who was acquired during the winter from Baltimore and their $140,000 pitch left the talented outfielder "shocked."

And Wise, who pitched a no-hitter and won 17 games last season, informed the Phillies that he was shooting for a 100 per cent boost to $65,000 which is considerably more than General Manager John Quinn has offered.

Seaver, who reportedly had been interested in a three-year $500,000 contract similar to the one Carl Yastrzemski received from Boston last year, settled for less, but enough to keep him happy.

"I don't think you ever sign for what you want in this give-half, then reeled off 14 straight points for the victory, paced by Greg Kohlis' 26 points.

Hank Siemantkowski's timely scoring enabled Villanova to widen a five-point second-half lead to 17 against Duquesne. The 6-foot-6 star finished with 24 points.

Hope Girls Ousted

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Dreams of a district championship and a trip to the State Tournament were washed down the drain last night as the Hope Ladycats were belted by a tough bunch of Bradley Bears, 51-35.

It just didn't seem to be Hope's night, even with a large hometown crowd, as the Ladycats committed careless mistakes and experienced great trouble in finding the range of the basket.

During the first few minutes it looked as if the Ladycats might just break it open on any two or three shots as Hope grabbed a quick 4-1 margin with no trouble, and the defensive trio kept Bradley's offensive attack at almost a minimum of scoring.

Shots by Dee Singleton and Janet McCain pushed the score up to a six point lead, until Sara Allen, Hope Coach Ken Allen's sister, hit both ends of a free throw foul shot with four seconds left to narrow the Ladycat lead, 10-6, moving into the next period.

Fans had noticed one thing about the game so far, and that was that the Ladycats had missed more shots than they had made, which would eventually cause some of the chaos.

This time Bradley received the tip first and with Allen and company starting to work, the Bears soon tied the score and went charging ahead for good, 11-10, with 4:23 left in the first half.

Outscored the rest of the way, the Ladycats narrowed the gap at halftime to four points, 20-16, on a jumpshot by Cory Coleman with 47 seconds left in the half.

As the teams made ready to jump the second half tipoff, it was evident the Ladycats would have to start hitting the basket quickly and hold Allen out of scoring range. However, it didn't work as Hope felt farther behind.

For the first three minutes, Singleton and McCain could only set a field goal each as the scoreboard showed Bradley in front, 30-20, with 3:26 left in the third stanza.

At that point the Ladycats cut Bradley's lead by one point, as Hope hit seven points while holding the Bears to six, setting the score at the end of the period at 36-27, Bradley still in command.

Moving into the final period, it was do or die for the Ladycats, and even though they tried, it was all in vain as Bradley used the points by Allen and Sharon Long, to ice down the victory.

All through the game, the Ladycats experienced foul trouble and in the first half, the turning point could have been that the Hope offensive trio just couldn't get the ball to go in the net, as many shots were missed. Singleton led the Ladycats with 17 points, McCain hit 12, Gladney put in four, and Coleman added two.

Guards seeing action were Janice Hobson, Betty Honeycutt, Mona Rowe, Judy Reyenga, Sandra Hamilton, and Carol Frazier.

Earlier, in the first game, the Stephens Roadrunners built up an early period lead and went on to demolish the Stamps Yellowjackets, 64-48, in a free scoring affair.

Stephens took an early 6-0 lead with 4:21 left in the period on shots by Donna Moses and Kay Hall, and with help from Linda Everett, the Roadrunners widened the margin at the end of the quarter to 10 points, 18-8.

With 18 points being scored in the first two minutes of the second period, Stephens had 10, as Stamp's Judy Barber hit six of the Yellowjackets eight points.

As the clock showed 1:52 left in the half, the Roadrunners held a convincing 33-16 margin, but Stamps outscored the opposition the rest of the half, 6-2, to set the score at 35-22, at halftime, Stephens in full command.

Continuous scoring in the second half kept the Roadrunners in complete control of the game, as Stephens held a 47-35 cushion at the third periods end, and then outscored Stamps, 17-13, in the last frame for the final margin of victory.

Moses had 27 points for Stephens, with Hall getting 19, and Everett had 16, while Barber hit 26 for Stamps.

Tonights action includes Prescott meeting Ashdown and DeQueen meeting Nashville.

Upsets in Tennis Play

TORONTO (AP) — Unseeded Roger Taylor of Great Britain capped a day of upsets in a $50,000 World Championship Tennis tournament Wednesday by eliminating Wimbledon king John Newcombe of Australia 7-5, 4-6, 6-4.

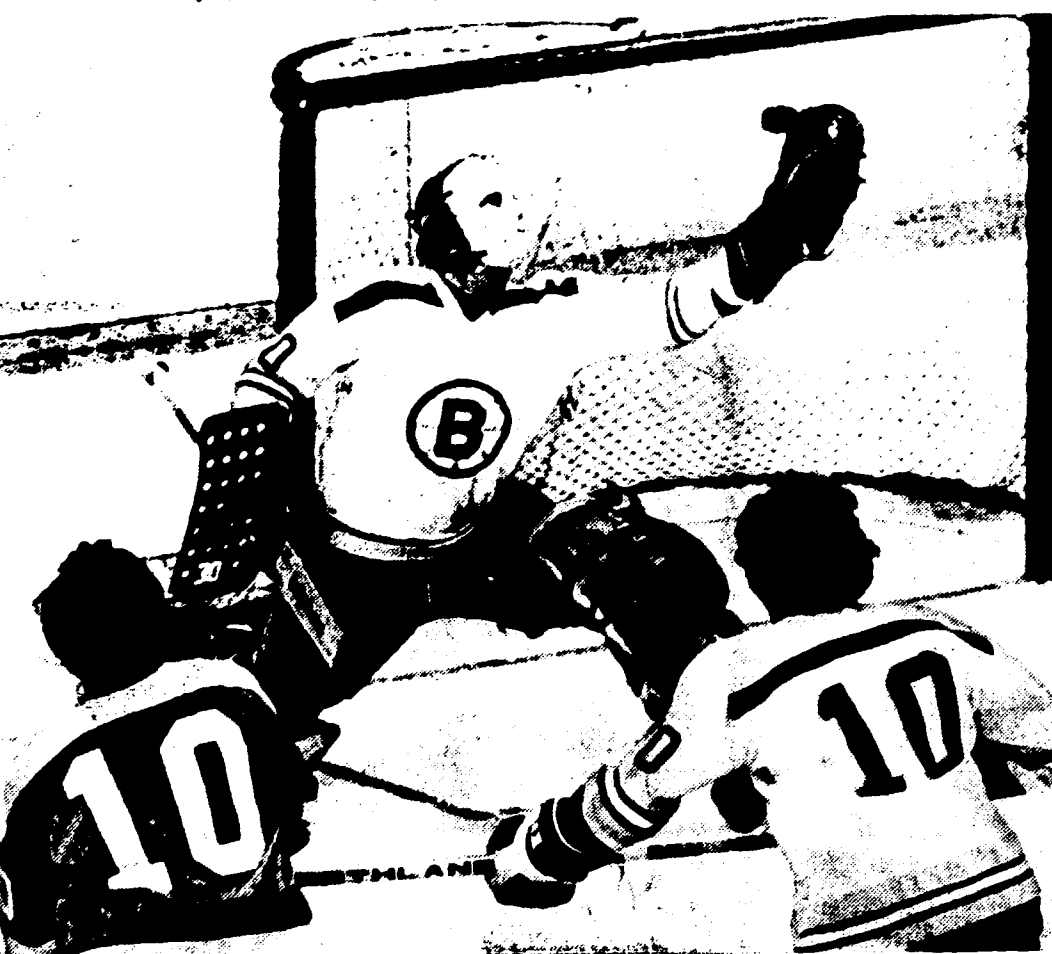

The eighth-seeded Newcombe was fighting a hot-and-cold backhand and an inconsistent serve throughout the match.

Fifth-seeded Bob Lutz of Tiburon, Calif., ran into what he termed bad line calls and a steady service game as he was sidelined 6-2, 6-4 by 10th-seeded Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico.

Unseeded Fred Stolle, who eliminated fourth-seeded Cliff Drysdale earlier, put together a strong volleying game to outlast 11th-seeded John Alexander 4-6, 6-3, 6-4 in a battle of Australians.

Top-seeded Rod Laver of Australia breezed past Frank Froehling of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., 6-0, 6-1 while seventh-seeded Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., whipped a sore-armed Tony Roche of Australia 6-2, 6-1; ninth-seeded Roy Emerson of Australia eliminated Graham Stilwell of Great Britain 6-4, 6-2 and third-seeded Tom Okker of the Netherlands got past Jeff Borowiak of Berkeley, Calif., 6-3, 6-4.

TWO OF THE MAIN REASONS the Chicago Black Hawks and Boston Bruins are leading their divisions in the National Hockey League are goalies Tony Esposito of Chicago, making a save on the Bruins' Mike Walton (11), above (with help from Bryan Campbell), and Gerry Cheevers of Boston, stopping a shot by Pittsburgh's Keith McCreary (10 in dark jersey), while teammate Rick Smith watches.

Chamberlain Has 30,000th Point

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain has 30,001 career points but says his first point scored in the National Basketball Association was more memorable than his 30,000th.

Chamberlain scored the milestone point on a goaltending call Wednesday night during the third period of the Los Angeles Lakers-Phoenix Suns contest. Suns center Neal Walk was called for knocking Chamberlain's shot away from the bucket.

Ironically a similar play by Chamberlain gave the Suns a 110-109 victory in the contest. Chamberlain was called for illegally blocking a shot by Connie Hawkins with three seconds left which gave Phoenix the victory.

In other NBA games, New York defeated Houston 110-100; Atlanta edged Baltimore 105-103; Philadelphia downed Cleveland 126-116, and Seattle trimmed Boston 113-112.

Oscar Robertson of Milwaukee is second on the alltime NBA scoring list, more than 500 points behind. Chamberlain also leads in career rebounds.

"What it means is someone has done a whole lot of shooting at one time or another," said Chamberlain.

"Tonight's 30,000th was memorable, but the one I guess I remember the best was the first I ever got which came in a game against the Knicks."

"I hit the first shot I took and I've just been going on from there," Chamberlain said.

In March 1962, the 7-foot-1 center scored 100 points in a game against the Knicks.

Chamberlain, in his 13th year in the NBA, says he is not looking too far in the future.

"I hope to keep going and if everything goes like it's going now, I'll be back next year," he said. "But beyond that I don't know."

Chamberlain scored 19 points and pulled down 21 rebounds in Wednesday night's contest.

Teammate Jerry West praised Chamberlain's scoring record but said Wilt has become more noted for his defensive abilities.

"When a player becomes older and more mature," said West, "he finds other ways to help the team besides shooting the ball."

"Chamberlain has tried to do what Coach (Bill) Sharman wants him to do and that's play defense and he's doing the job. Everyone knows the importance of having the big guy in there to block shots and that's what Chamberlain does for this club."

The New York Knicks missed their first nine shots from the floor but managed to catch the Rockets with 1:07 left in the half, and never trailed from that point. Walt Frazier had the Knicks' hot hand with 28 points while Earl Monroe had 18 and Bill Bradley 16. Elvin Hayes scored 26 points and Stu Lantz 25 for Houston.

Pete Maravich supported an Atlanta surge with 17 points in the third quarter as the Hawks overcame a Baltimore lead. "Pistol Pete" finished with 30 points in a game where the lead changed hands 16 times.

Don Adams' two free throws and Lou Hudson's basket in the closing minutes proved the margin of victory after the Bulls had tied the game at 101-101. Archie Clark was game high scorer with 31 points for Baltimore while teammate rookie Phil Chenier had 19.

"The 76ers snapped their seven-game losing streak and extended the Cavaliers' to 10 games. Bob Rule hit for 31 points, Billy Cunningham 30 and Fred Carter 26 in Philadelphia's high-powered assault. Rookie Austin Carr had 30 points for Cleveland.

Dick Snyder hit a 25-foot jump shot at the buzzer to give the SuperSonics their victory over the Celtics. Snyder made his shot after an inbound pass with just one second left. Spencer Haywood led Seattle with 26 points while Dave Cowens had 29 for Boston.

Utah Overcomes Super Star

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — New York's Rick Barry was unstoppable Wednesday night, so the Utah Stars found another way to beat the Nets.

While Barry was putting on a one-man show, the Stars, leaders in the American Basketball Association's West Division, concentrated on keeping the rest of the Nets under control. At the other end, they produced a balanced offense which had five men scoring better than 15 points apiece.

The result was a 119-114 victory for Utah at the Nassau Coliseum ... despite 50 points by Barry.

The Nets' superstar did just about everything. He sank 17 of 30 two-point field goal attempts, two of five three-point tries and a perfect 10 for 10 from the foul line for his 50 points. He pulled down 13 rebounds and he even handed out seven assists.

"This was the best game Barry has played since he became a New York Net," declared his appreciative coach, Lou Carnesecca.

But still Utah won. In the only other ABA game of the night, the Kentucky Colonels, East Division leaders, whipped the Pittsburgh Condors, East Division tailenders, 129-105.

The Colonels held a 55-53 edge at the half, but broke the game open by outscoring Pittsburgh 14-3 in the first 3:45 of the third quarter. Dan Issel scored 37 and Artis Gilmore 25 to pace Kentucky, while Dave

Otto Graham: Winning ISN'T the Only Thing

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico—(NPA)—After teaming with Joe DiMaggio in the recent American Airlines Golf Classic here, Otto Graham returned quietly to the U.S. Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn.

Graham is the athletic director at the Academy, and knows when he returns that he will not be the object of a stadiumful of boos, will not have to hide like a vile knave when the football team loses, will not have to be "an S.O.B. all the time." In short, Otto Graham is no longer a professional football head coach.

Graham coached the Washington Redskins from 1966 through 1968, his first and only full-time experience as a pro head coach. "And I'll never do it again," said Graham. "Not the way the pro game is now."

Graham said he used to have talks about theory with his successor at Washington, Vince Lombardi. "Vince told me that it was a dog-eat-dog business," recalls Graham. "He said that to be successful at it you've got to be an S.O.B. 100 per cent of the time. I think he's right. That's why I'm glad I'm out of it. I like to win, sure, but I don't want to win at any cost."

One of the finest quarterbacks in pro football history, Graham led the Cleveland Browns to a league or division title in each of his 10 playing seasons (from 1946-1955). He was inducted into the Hall of Fame at Canton in 1965. At age 51, Graham remains competitive, playing golf and tennis and handball often and, he says, intensely. He says he also tries to instill a winning spirit in the coaches under him at the Academy.

"But when the game is over, you've got to get on with the other facets of your life—like your family," said Graham. "You can't do that as a pro football coach. Football has to be your whole life, almost every minute of every day, year-round. Football is just not that important to me."

"I'll never forget some-

Black Hawks Rally for Tie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It took 40 minutes for the Chicago Black Hawks to solve rookie goalie Bob Taylor but a lot less time than that for Jimmy Pappin to put the Hawks back in Wednesday night's National Hockey League game.

Two goals six seconds apart by Pappin sparked a third period rally that earned Chicago a 3-3 tie with Philadelphia. Elsewhere, it was Montreal 1, California 1; Minnesota 4, Detroit 2; Pittsburgh 4, Toronto 2; and St. Louis 3, Los Angeles 1.

Taylor, called up from Richmond of the American League to replace ailing Bruce Gamble, had the Black Hawks shut out for two periods and was leading 3-0 on second period goals by Simon Nolet, Bill Flett and Bobby Clarke. But suddenly, Pappin fell in on him.

Pappin whipped a 40-footer past the rookie at 2:57 of the third period and when Andre Lacroix won the ensuing faceoff and got the puck to Pappin, the big right wing struck again, this time from 50 feet.

The two goals six seconds apart put Chicago back in business and two minutes later, Stan Mikita struck for the tying tally.

The deadlock kept intact Philadelphia's record of never having won in Chicago. The Flyers are 9-10-4 in regular season games at Chicago Stadium since entering the NHL.

Pete Mahovich's power play goal in the second period gained Montreal its tie against California. The Canadiens had the manpower edge when Seals' goalie Gilles Meloche was penalized for delaying the game by shooting the puck into the stands—one of three such calls by Referee Bruce Hood.

Gerry Pinder's 20th goal of the season in the opening period had given the Seals the lead before Mahovich connected.

Minnesota's Jude Drouin stretched his goal-scoring streak to four games, hitting the tie-breaker with five minutes left as Minnesota dropped Detroit. Drouin tapped a deflected centering pass for the deciding goal and then Danny Grant hit an empty net with one second left to clinch it.

The Red Wings, who remained tied with Toronto in the struggle for the fourth and final playoff slot in the NHL's East Division, jumped ahead early on goals by Tim Ecclestone and Red Berenson. But the North Stars tied the score in the second period when Murray Oliver and Bob Nevin connected.

on new plays?"

"I remember when the Redskins were losing and how guilty I'd feel going to a movie at night. I'd practically walk into the theater with my coat over my head."

In three seasons, the Redskins' best record under Graham was 7-7. He was booed with gusto, called inglorious names. The press belted him, too.

"They all took it so seriously," said Graham. "I re-

AM&N Postpones Ouachita Game

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball game between Arkansas AM&N and Ouachita Baptist University tonight has been postponed. The executive committee of the AIC said the game was postponed at the request of AM&N officials "due to the very tense situation that now exists in Pine Bluff."

Barry in $1 Million Suit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Basketball star Rick Barry is back in the courts—this time in a $1.1 million suit he filed in U.S. District Court against the National Basketball Association team formerly known as the San Francisco Warriors.

Barry, now 27 and a forward with the New York Nets of the American Basketball Association, claims a 1969 contract he signed with the Warriors, now the Golden State Warriors, is invalid.

The suit, filed Wednesday, is actually a counter-claim to one filed in November by attorneys for Warrior owner Frank Mieuli seeking to make Barry live up to the three-year contract.

Barry, in his action, alleges that the NBA and the Warriors pooled resources in obtaining his services, thereby violating federal anti-trust regulations.

The complaint claims the contract is invalid because it is "an unreasonable restraint of trade in violation of sections one and two" of the antitrust law.

"Part of the suit is similar to the Curt Flood baseball case," said Barry's attorney, Frederick Furth. "We are alleging that the NBA reserve clause is illegal."

The ABA has a one-year option but no reserve clause.

Changes in College Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Western Washington State, which stretched its record to 18-0 last week by defeating St. Martin's 78-75 and Southern Oregon 89-64, jumped from ninth place to fifth in The Associated Press' college division basketball poll released Wednesday.

The Vikings, the only unbeaten team in the Top Ten as selected by the panel of 16 sports writers and broadcasters, received two first place votes and 158 points.

The Eau Claire Blugolds, 181, continued to hold the top spot in the poll with eight first place ballots and 286 points. In last week's action, Eau Claire trounced Stevens Point 101-64 and edged Whitewater 97-89 in double-overtime.

Louisiana Tech, 19-2, grabbed second place with two first place ballots and 244 points. Tennessee State was third with 206 points and Cheyney State fourth with 168. Each received one first place vote.

Rounding out the Top Ten were Eastern Michigan, up from seventh to sixth; Stephen F. Austin, which moved from eighth to seventh; Akron, dropping from fourth to eighth; Alabama State, dipping from sixth to ninth, and Evansville, which retained the No. 10 spot. Eastern Michigan received one first place ballot, as did Gardner-Webb, which did not make the Top Ten.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, won-lost records through last Saturday's games and total points on a basis of 20 for first, 18 for second, 16, 14, 12, 10, 9, 8, etc.

Helen and Sue Bottel
The Generation Rap

A Joy Forever, or a Drag?

Dear Sue and Helen:

My girl is a knockout. Man, was I proud of her. But now I'm not so sure. She spends half her life on her "looks." The makeup she buys, plus clothes and hair appointments—well, I could live on that money. And she's never ready to go out because she's doing her face. The old mirror is the most used thing in her purse. When I kid her, she says, "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." I look at her and think "Yes," but I think of her, and wonder—STAY OR LEAVE?

Dear S or L:

Where's the "joy" when "A thing of beauty is a job forever"? Watch out for that kind!—SUE

Dear Stay Or Leave:

...Or you may discover, after marriage, that you've been GYPPEd forever—once the bills start coming in. I vote for "LEAVE."—HELEN

Dear RAP:

I'm almost 15 and so is Jerry. We're truly in love. But he says he can't express in words the way he feels, and there's only one way to "prove our love." I'm scared I'll get pg.

Besides, I don't want to. I don't need him the way he needs me, 'cause for me just being in love is enough. But he's moody and upset and if I don't act now I may lose him.

What do you do when a boy thinks the English language doesn't "prove" anything?—LOST FOR WORDS

Dear Lost:

Tell him love isn't just a warm bed—it's a warm heart. But it takes a lot of understanding to make him believe it.

...You know, writing this column with Mom has made me think beneath the surface. It also makes me feel very old sometimes.

Like frinstance, I assumed along with my college-age friends, that the stale phrase, "prove your love," was out of it. I mean couples talk more frankly these days.

But I forgot that for a girl just starting to date, those ancient words are brand new. She's never heard them before, and maybe the boy has never said them before—and he's really shook, not just trying to score.

So...you can't hand the girl a quip to brush him off with. These two KNOW they're terribly in love, and HE figures sex proves it because sex is adult and adults fall in love, not kids. But SHE is still at the "romance is enough" stage.

What she must do is show him that if he talks her into something she doesn't want, he'll lose her. And she can keep him from trying if she doesn't let the teasing get out of hand. I think SUE await release today after a month in U.S. custody on charges of illegal fisheries support activity in an American fishing zone.

Soviet Fishing Officers Fined

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Three Soviet fishing officers

The men were fined $80,000 in U.S. District Court Wednesday after changing their pleas from innocent to no contest. A finding of guilty was directed after the change.

G. Kent Edwards, U.S. attorney for Alaska, said the officers would be released after their fines were paid. The money was expected to be forwarded to the Justice Department from the Soviet Embassy in Washington.

Edwards also announced Wednesday that an out-of-court agreement had resulted in a $170,000 assessment against the two Soviet fishing vessels which were seized by the Coast Guard Jan. 17. The vessels had been liable to confiscation.

Vladimir Artemov, master of an 80-ship Soviet herring fleet working the Bering Sea, and Igor Boytun, skipper of the 362-foot factory ship Lamut, were fined $30,000 each. Nikolai Pavluk, master of the trawler Kol-yvan, was fined $20,000.

The Soviet ships were seized by the cutter Storis about nine miles from St. Matthew Island.

"ends!"—HELEN

Life Worth Living

NEW YORK (AP) — Things that make life worth living:

A woman smiling and saying "thank you" after you hold the apartment house elevator for her.

The ecstatic yelps of beagle hounds chasing a surprised rabbit.

The biggest pot of the evening in the middle of the green table cloth—and four kings hidden in your hand.

The shimmering trail of beauty a full moon makes across a breeze-rippled lake.

Feeding a breaded veal cutlet—your least favorite food—to the dog under the dining room table while your wife isn't looking.

Winning a kewpie doll for your girl at the carnival by knocking all the rubber milk bottles off the stand with three pitched balls.

Eloping with the snippy young lady who once said she wouldn't marry you if you were the last man on earth.

The soft sheen of candlelight falling on old silver.

The taste of the first tomato to reddens in your backyard garden.

The comradely wink of an old schoolteacher who gave you a better final grade in algebra than the one both she and you knew you really deserved.

Buttering up Dad for an extra dime as a child and hearing him tell you with mock seriousness, "Don't throw it all away on one girl, son."

Thumbing through an old family photo album and being startled at how young and near and human the faces of the vanished dead now seem. When you were young, they looked so quaint and far away—almost as if they weren't actual people at all.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration specialists on troop cuts in Europe have come to the guarded conclusion that the Soviet Union is inching toward the Western position on mutual and balanced force reduction, or MBFR.

Yet, they said, they can only guess why Moscow remains hard-nosed in its refusal to receive Italian diplomat Manlio Brosio, who is assigned to explore the possibilities of starting serious negotiations.

The new assessment of the Soviet attitude was based on careful study of a "Declaration on Europe" issued by the Warsaw Pact countries in Prague Jan. 26. One paragraph read:

"Reducing armed forces and armaments in Europe, both foreign and national, ought to be solved in such a manner as not to be to the detriment of the countries taking part in such reduction."

American officials believe this comes close on two counts to the "Rome Criteria" the Western allies agreed to put forward in MBFR talks with the Communist bloc.

For one thing, the Warsaw Pact document said that reductions, including armaments, should include "both foreign and national" forces. The Rome Criteria said reductions should include "stationed and indigenous forces and their weapons systems."

Secondly, the Warsaw Pact

communiqué said reduction should "not be to the detriment of the participating nations." According to the Rome Criteria, MBFR "should not operate to the military disadvantage of either side."

Although the Prague document may be regarded as a step toward clarification of the complex issues involved in MBFR, U.S. officials remain convinced that personal contact through an "explorer"—Brosio's official designation—is indispensable. They acknowledge, however, that there seems little hope Moscow would change its mind and invite the Italian.

Accordingly, the officials said, the Western allies—meaning all members of NATO, except France which is not interested in MBFR—are consulting on a new approach to Moscow, probably shelving the idea of sending Brosio there. The officials would not disclose the alternatives, but acknowledged that contacts through normal diplomatic channels might be one of them.

Obituary

Mrs. Mary P. Johnson, a longtime resident of Hope, passed away in a local hospital Tuesday, February 16, 1972, at 7:20 p.m. following a lengthy illness. She was a member of the Lonoke Baptist Church and a member of the senior choir.

Among her survivors are her husband, Dan Johnson; three children, Mrs. Mary Lee Carter of Tulsa, Oklahoma, Mrs. Doris Daniels of Little Rock, and Johnny Lee Jones of Hope; seven grandchildren, numerous nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete and will be announced by Smith Funeral Home of Stamps.

Smaller Families Now

WASHINGTON (AP) —

American wives of child-bearing age expect smaller families than did their counterparts five years ago, according to a new Census Bureau survey.

The report may have special significance for scientists worried that the earth is becoming so overpopulated that its ecology is endangered.

"People who are concerned about the population explosion need to read this very closely," said Census Director George Hay Brown who announced the findings Wednesday.

But Brown pointed out that the survey covers only 6 per cent of the world's population.

Regarded as a key indicator of the national birth rate, the survey showed that:

—Wives from 18 to 39 expect to have an average of 2.8 children, a decline from the 3.1 average reported in 1967.

—Wives from 18 to 24 expect

2.4 children, compared with 2.9 five years ago.

—64 per cent of those 18 to 24 expect no more than two children, up from 44 per cent reporting those expectations in the previous survey.

The new study coincides with earlier findings that the nation's birth rate fell last year to one of the lowest levels in history.

The findings take on added significance because there are more women of prime child-bearing age now than in previous years, which usually would mean a rising birth rate.

Demographers say the number of births per woman of child-bearing age must be trimmed to 2.11 per cent if a stable population that neither increases nor decreases is to be achieved. The most recent survey put the figure at about 2.5 births per family.

Threat to Common Mkt. Pact

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — The flash economic crisis resulting from the British coal strike today threatened Prime Minister Edward Heath's plans to lead Britain into the European Common Market.

It also provided a somber prelude for the British leader's talks this weekend with President Georges Pompidou of France on the future of allied Europe.

A three-day debate in the House of Commons ends tonight with a vote on the European Communities bill, key legislation to accomplish Britain's entry into the Common Market next year. The Conservative government expects to win, but the circumstances in which Britain now can link up with Europe have worsened dangerously.

It had been Heath's aim to lead a strong, buoyant, thriving Britain into the Common Market.

Until last month the prospects seemed bright.

The pound sterling was riding high.

British exports were humming, easily outstripping imports.

It seemed as if Heath's undying resistance to in-

Your Family

The greatest people in the world. Most of the time. Unfortunately, most of the time doesn't include income tax time. Because the last thing you need when you're doing your taxes is an aunt who took an accounting course just before she dropped out of college. Or a father who thinks how much money you make and what you do with it is something the rest of the family should know about.

Your Neighbors

You know the type. The mild-mannered shoe salesman next door who suddenly turns into a mathematical genius just about the time income tax is due. He knows all the angles. Some of which even the Internal Revenue Service doesn't know about yet. And he's willing to share them with you. "Just to be neighborly."

You

Your own worst enemy. All year long you can't balance your check book, but that doesn't stop you. Armed with your W-2's, a few reams of paper and a couple of gallons of coffee you bravely attack that stack of forms. You may be taking deductions you're not entitled to, and entitled to deductions you're not taking. So, should you be doing your own taxes?

We're H & R Block, with over 6,000 conveniently located offices manned by thousands of specially trained tax preparers who eat, sleep, and drink income tax returns. People who set out to save you money and much of the time do it. The cost? Fees start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for over 7 million customers we served last year.

Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative.

And everyone is eligible to receive our year 'round service which is covered by our one time fee. No extra charge for help with audits, estimates, or tax questions.

We know the people we've just told you about will do your income tax return for less than we can but we don't think you can afford them.

Senate Bows to House on Drugs

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Senate bowed to House wishes on two drug bills Wednesday, paving the way to adjournment and ending an impasse over how to modify legislative blunders in handling drug measures in 1971.

The impasse began Tuesday on House Bill 64 and ended at 3:02 p.m. Wednesday on HB71. Formal adjournment of the session, which began Feb. 7, came at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Both bills were developed by an ad hoc committee of legislators headed by Rep. Ralph Patterson of North Little Rock, which became the Uniform Controlled Substances Act.

Gov. Dale Bumpers' own bills to correct the 1971 flaws were interred during the special session and he subsequently opted for the ad hoc proposals which had been offered as substitutes for his plan.

One of the substitutes, HB71, was aimed especially at making it easier for law enforcement officers to get convictions on charges of possession of illegal drugs for sale.

The section to facilitate such convictions was termed the "rebuttable presumption" clause, which provides that a person possessing more than the quantities specified in the bill possessed them for sale unless he can create in a jurors' minds a reasonable doubt that sale was his intent.

Sen. W. D. Moore Jr. of El Dorado led the fight against that clause, attempting once to delete it from the bill altogether and arguing persistently that it was unconstitutional.

Why, he asked, should a man arrested with drugs in his possession be charged with anything other than simple possession, a misdemeanor? Possession for sale is a felony with a more severe penalty.

"What do you want to charge him with—murder?" Moore asked.

The bill lists various controlled drugs and the amounts that may be found on a person without placing him under the presumption that he possessed them for sale. The limit on "stimulant drugs," one category in the bill, is 300 milligrams and that, said Sen. Morris Henry of Fayetteville, made it a "bad bill."

Some drugs which aid dieters are prescribed by doctors in 75 milligram doses, said Henry, who also is a doctor and a lawyer.

"A baby who picked up three of his mother's diet pills would be covered (subject to prosecution for sale) by this bill," Henry said.

Sen. Bill H. Walmaley of Batesville asked, "would that include caffeine?"

"Yes," Henry replied.

"Oh, my goodness!" exclaimed Sen. Guy H. "Mutt" Jones from his seat at the back of the chamber.

Sen. Harold King of Sheridan, who led one movement to toughen penalties against drug peddlers, objected to the fact that the bill would permit an ounce of marijuana to be found on a person without subjecting him to the presumption.

"I don't believe any body should make a law letting anyone carry a lid of marijuana," King said, describing a lid as an ounce.

But he said he would vote for the bill—and he did—because law enforcement officials "need something to help them out."

The measure got the exact number of favorable votes needed for passage, 18, with Sen. W. A. Womack of Camden, whose name is last on the roll call tally sheet, casting the deciding vote. Twelve senators voted against the bill.

Earlier in the Senate session, Sen. Ben Allen of Little Rock had told his colleagues that the 1971 law said that only the commissioner of the controlled substances commission could make arrests for possession or sale of drugs.

Without legislation to remedy that situation, he said, "We're going to have troubles like you wouldn't believe."

The impasse on HB71 developed over an amendment Sen. Sorels had offered and the Senate had attached to the bill.

Many Chevrolet dealers are announcing the most complete warranty ever put on a used car. Count your blessings.

First, you're protected where it counts most: on the major mechanical parts of the car you buy. And that lasts a healthy 30 days or 2,000 miles, whichever comes first.

Second, you get special savings on any parts or labor you need. From the day you buy for 24 months.

Third, the special savings are good all across the country at most Chevrolet dealers. Say you're on a vacation trip and find you need service. You just get in touch with a participating Chevrolet dealership.

All you do is show an OK warranty identification card you receive when you buy your used car.

Your Chevrolet dealers' new OK warranty. It takes the guesswork out of used car buying.

Family Hard Hit by Mercury Poisoning

ALAMAGORDO, N.M. (AP) — Ernestine Huckleby, one of three children stricken by mercury poisoning more than two years ago after they ate pork from a home-butchered hog, has left the hospital.

The 10-year-old can't feed herself, can't talk, and can't see. Her mother, Mrs. Ernest Huckleby, said Wednesday night, "I'm just so tickled about having her home again. I'd like to tell everyone about my blessings and thank God."

The youngster had been home from a local hospital for day visits, her mother said, "but when we took her back to the hospital at night she cried every time because she was lonely."

Since Monday, she has been home full time. "All she can do yet is to smile when we tell her a joke. The people at the hospital wanted us to have her sent to a different hospital rather than let us bring her home," her mother said. "I prayed to the Lord to bless me by letting Ernestine come home and he answered my prayers."

Doctors traced the mercury poisoning that afflicted Ernestine and two older Huckleby children to seed grain that had been treated with a mercury compound and then fed to the butchered hog.

The older children—Jean, now 22, and Amos, now 15—have been home for some time after spending several months in a rehabilitation center at Roswell.

All three children suffered severe brain damage, doctors said. Like Ernestine, Amos is blind, but Dorothy Jean has regained much of her sight.

Dorothy Jean now gets around by herself with the help of crutches and is going to night school to finish junior high.

"She called out to me and was all excited about how she was getting along," Mrs. Huckleby said, recalling a day in December when Dorothy Jean tried walking in a hall without crutches.

"Dorothy was bouncing from wall to wall, but she was able to go a short distance by herself," Mrs. Huckleby said. "She can wash clothes and is a lot of help to me these days."

"Amos can give himself a bath now, and he can move anywhere on the couch by himself without having to have help," his mother said. "Amos is doing well."

Cites Perils of the Life of Coal Miner

By TONY EVANS
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — "Coal miners have the toughest job in the country," said Glyn Jones. "We should be paid a decent wage for it."

Jones was one of hundreds of miners who came to London from their Welsh valleys to march on Parliament Tuesday in support of their demand for higher wages.

"I make 22 pounds—$57.20—a week before deductions like national health insurance," said the 27-year-old father of three. "With overtime I can bring home more."

Now that he's out of work because of the strike, his pretty wife Betty collects welfare benefits in addition to the family allowance she gets regularly for the three kids. All told, said Jones, this comes to nearly $50 a week.

"It's not much," said the bearded, black-haired young man. "But at least there's no danger from silicosis or half a mile of rock on my back when I'm up here."

Like most miners in South Wales, Jones works in the pit because his father did before him and because he knows no other trade.

"It's a hard life down that hole," he said. "Unless you're brought up to it, it can kill you off quick." His pale face glistened in the rain as he jabbed a stubby finger to bring home his point.

"You spend your life running around in grit. You've got to walk maybe two miles through galleries too low to stand in before you can get to the coal face."

"Then you do your eight hours work shoveling coal in a space the size of an automobile trunk, and afterwards you have two miles to walk again to get back to the mine shaft."

"Some days he comes home too tired to take his shoes off," said his wife. "He just sits there without any strength left, waiting for his meal. I wish he'd leave the mines, but where is there to go?"

When Jones is working, his wife spends $26 of his $57.20 pay on food. Another $5.20 goes on rent and the rest for payments on the TV set, clothes and beer and tobacco for Jones.

"We used to have a car when we were first married," she said, "but it got old and we couldn't afford to get it repaired, so Glyn sold it. Now we can only just afford to keep up the television payments, and a car is out of the question."

The Joneses have also given up fruit, canned foods, and cheese.

"We fill up on bread and butter nowadays," she said. Britain's 280,000 coal miners are striking for an average raise of $15.50 a week in a basic minimum wage of $49.40 for underground workers.

"And we'll get it, you mark my words, or we'll stop this country dead," said Jones.

May Suggest Legal Wars Have Claimed 54 Million Use of Marijuana

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A national commission may recommend legalizing the private use of marijuana in an effort to strip away the myths which tempt some people to try it and fill others with fear of it.

Sources close to the 13-member panel say the recommendations will stop short of endorsing total legalization.

The thrust of the report "is to defuse the marijuana issue, to strike away the emotional mythology about the drug," the sources said.

Commission officials have declined comment until March 22 when the report will be presented to President Nixon and Congress.

The conservative-dominated commission, headed by former Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania and including nine persons picked by Nixon, "takes a dramatic step to decriminalize private use of marijuana in the home—while discouraging use by keeping other things criminal," such as public use, sources say.

The panel also concluded, the sources add, that "while excessive use may be harmful, no clear evidence was found that moderate use had detrimental effects on the user." There was no real evidence that marijuana-users are being spurred by the drug to commit major crime or to go on to hard narcotics, they said.

These findings stem from some 50 reports and from testimony at a series of hearing and private meetings, from which it was decided marijuana "is not a seriously damaging drug," the sources said. Long-term impact has not been determined, they said.

It was also learned that the commission is expected to recommend decreasing penalties for possessing marijuana, and that the panel would call for retaining criminal penalties for driving under the influence of the drug.

However, disputes developed over such issues as whether criminal penalties should be continued for those who give marijuana to friends.

WARS HAVE CLAIMED 54 MILLION

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — In the 345 years between 1600 and the end of World War II about 54 million persons in the world died in military service, a U.N. study estimates.

But "The World Population Situation in 1970," concludes that wars, famines and epidemics together had slowed down population growth by only about 10 years.

On top of all the deaths of people in military service, the study says, there must have been large "war-induced mortality among civilians" stemming in modern times from their becoming targets of attack and in earlier periods from the epidemics, famines and pillage that came with war.

It cites evidence that famines and epidemics in themselves act as a drag on population growth. It notes that on the Indian subcontinent population increased 3 million or 4 million in the decades of the 1876-78 floods and epidemics, the 1892 and 1897 famines and the 1918 influenza epidemic, in contrast to 24 million and 19 million in intervening decades. Because of food shortages after World War II, the book adds, many hundreds of thousands died in Europe who might otherwise have lived longer.

"The ravages of war, famine or epidemic have been devastating indeed," the book says. "Even so, the setbacks which they have caused in population size have often been restored within only a few years by the sheer inertia of normal fertility and mortality trends. Had there been no international violence since 1850, the current population size might have been reached 10 years earlier."

The study puts the world's

Plans Archives Preservation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Frank B. Evans, deputy assistant archivist of the United States, will meet Feb. 25 with the Arkansas History Commission to discuss proposals for preserving, maintaining and housing state archives.

Evans will meet with both the commission and its Public Records Committee, which is drafting a legislative bill to establish a procedure for all agencies of local, county and state government to preserve public records.

population for 1970 at about 3.6 billion and foresees about 6½ billion by the year 2000.

"The 1970s may well be the decade of the fastest world population growth ever to be attained," it says, adding that this would be due to sharply lower death rates and continued high birth rates.

Black Heads University

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Gene McKissic of Pine Bluff Wednesday became the first black president of the University of Arkansas Associated Student Government.

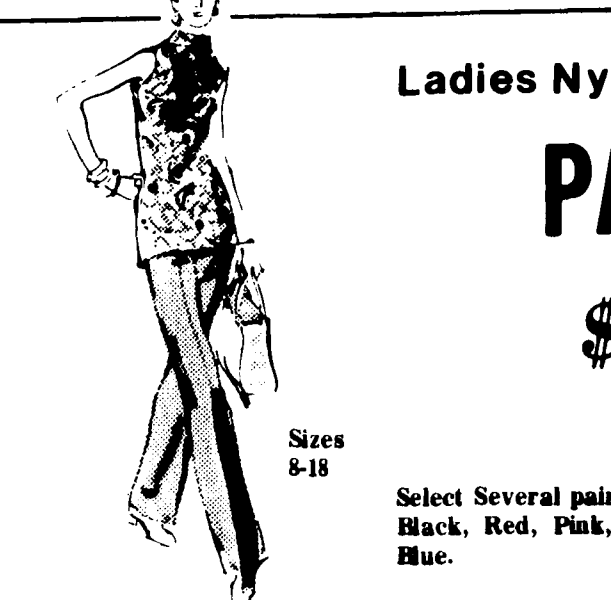

McKissic received 45 per cent of the vote in a six-man primary Monday and defeated Bill Buffalo of Carlisle, who is white, 2,140 to 1,488 in a runoff Wednesday.

There are about 12,000 students at the university, but only about 350 are black.

One of the points in McKissic's program was to bring legislative attention to the needs of the university and its students.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

Notice is given that by virtue of the decree of the Chancery Court of Nevada County, Arkansas, rendered October 4, 1971, in Cause No. 4993 pending therein wherein Bank of Chidester was plaintiff and Don Howell et al were defendants, the undersigned, as Commissioner appointed by said Court, will on Saturday, March 4, 1972, at 10 A.M. o'clock offer for sale at public outcry to the highest bidder at the front door of the courthouse in Prescott, Arkansas, the following described lands:

TRACT 1
Part of Lots 4 and 5 in Block 21 of the Railroad Survey of the City of Prescott, Nevada County, Arkansas, described as follows: Commence at the Northwest corner of said Lot 4 at the intersection of West Elm and West Second South Streets, and run thence Northeast along West Second South Street for 75 feet, thence run at right angles and across Lot 4 and a part of Lot 5 and parallel with West Elm Street for 75 feet, thence run Southwest and parallel with West Second South Street for 75 feet to West Elm Street, thence run Northwest along West Elm Street for 75 feet to the point of beginning, forming a tract 75 feet square in the northwest corner of said Block.

TRACT 2
The E½ of SW¼ of Section 3, Township 10 South, Range 24 West, less four acres in the form of a parallelogram in the Southwest corner thereof, in Hempstead County, Arkansas, containing 76 acres, more or less.

TRACT 3
The SW¼ of SW¼ of Section 11, Township 10 South, Range 24 West, Hempstead County, Arkansas, containing 40 acres, more or less.

TRACT 4
The S½ of SE¼ of Section 3, Township 10 South, Range 24 West, Hempstead County, Arkansas, containing 80 acres, more or less.

Tract 1 will be offered for sale separately; Tract 2 will next be offered for sale separately; Tract 3 will next be offered for sale separately; Tracts 2 and 3 will next be offered for sale as a unit; Tract 4 will next be offered for sale separately; Tracts 2, 3, and 4 will next be offered for sale as a whole; and, as so offered, said lands will be sold for the highest bid or bids received and in such manner as will yield the highest sale price.

Said sale will be on a credit of three months and the purchaser will be required to give bond with approved personal security for the purchase price, bearing interest from date of sale until paid at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, and a lien will be retained upon the property to secure the payment of the purchase money, provided, however, that the purchaser may at his election pay cash and avoid the payment of interest. WITNESS my hand on this February 7, 1972.
Fred Ridling, Jr., Commissioner

Public Interest Shifts to Daily Living Problems

NEW YORK (AP) — American interest in the news shifted to the problems of daily living in 1971 after 25 years of preoccupation with foreign affairs, Associated Press General Manager Wes Gallagher said Wednesday.

"News of the U.S. economy, inflation, unemployment, ecology and local problems took first place in reader and listener interest, perhaps for the first time since World War II," Gallagher said in his annual report to The Associated Press membership.

This was not an isolationist trend, Gallagher pointed out, but the result of the pressure of daily living where inflation, higher taxes, education, crime and many other problems preoccupied the average American citizen.

The Vietnam war, India-Pakistan, the President's trip to China and other international events still captured attention, but the daily priorities were closer to home, he said.

This shifting interest to local, state and regional news was shown in the play by members of stories telling how national or state government policies affected the average man's taxes, his cost of living, his ecology, his school systems and his personal well-being, Gallagher reported.

He announced the installation and operation of eight of a planned nine computer centers during 1971. The last center was to be completed in early 1972. Completion of the centers was marked by operation and installation of the largest system of Cathode Ray Tubes in use for editing and writing in journalism today.

"Each hub served a group of states and its sophisticated technology obliterated the old mechanical problems of moving copy across state barriers," Gallagher said. "News of interest to two or more states within a hub now could appear on those state wires almost simultaneously, in one simple electronic operation."

"Such flexibility," Gallagher said, "fostered the development of much specifically regional enterprise."

Gallagher's report was mailed to members in advance of the AP's annual meeting in New York on Monday, April 24.

To help cover the year's big domestic story—the economy—the AP assigned a team of experts in Washington to monitor developments. Their accounts were leavened with grassroots viewpoints gleaned by bureaus across the country.

"Weekly roundups by these and other specialists were produced to provide continuity and perspective, and to follow up on the practical results of policies as administration measures poured from the White House and the executive agencies," Gallagher said.

In addition, AP analysts wrote background and explanatory articles translating global and national economic events into consumer news for Americans.

Gallagher said that a concept of a new enterprise, covering the effect of social and political developments on the quality of American life, made up about 30 per cent of the AP news report in 1971.

As examples, he cited articles on the counterculture, urban problems, the armed services, the emerging biological controls on life, the environment, integration and drugs in America and Southeast Asia. In the foreign field, Gallagher said the AP bureau in Pakistan established in 1969 came into its own last year. Men on the scene, including Bureau Chief Arnold Zeitlin, gave AP a jump on the stories of the crackdown on the Bengalis, the flight of the refugees from East Pakistan to India and the war with India.

Gallagher also noted that the trip by John Roderick of AP's Tokyo bureau to Red China with a U.S. table tennis team was the first time in 22 years that an AP man was in mainland China.

The Vietnam story tapered off, Gallagher said, but became more difficult to cover with Vietnamization.

"As American involvement in the fighting waned, the Saigon staff kept focus on the remaining troops and how they fared in the twilight of the war," Gallagher said.

He noted that Henri Huet, "a talented photographer who had contributed often to the news report," was the fourth AP man to die in the war. He was killed in Laos in February.

In the technical field, Gallagher noted that the AP had 44 Cathode Ray Tube—CRT—terminals in operation early in 1972, making it the biggest user of such advanced technology.

The CRT is a typewriter-like device which enables a newsman to view his composition on a TV screen as he writes and edits. Once copy has been proofread, it can automatically be transmitted to the computer and thence on to the wires with the touch of a button.

James Vess and Larry Moses of the Hempstead Ambulance Service practice life-saving techniques on the class on resuscitation.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers, instructor for the coronary care course, receives instruction in the use of the Rocom unit on coronary care from Mrs. Jean Martin of the Arkansas Regional Medical Program.

Mrs. Mary Turner and Mrs. Jackie Marsh practice on "Resusianne" to review their technique in resuscitation.

As part of its inservice program for its employees, Hempstead Memorial Hospital has successfully completed its second coronary care course in February. Aptly enough, during the month that is dedicated to the heart, twenty four employees and two guests completed the forty four hour course. After completion of the course, students are able to recognize abnormal electrocardiograms of the heart and to assist the physician in treatment and also in resuscitative measures if needed.

A well rounded program was offered, using the $6,000 Rocom unit which was on loan from the Arkansas Regional Program in Little Rock. This unit was used in conjunction with individualized training in recognition of arrhythmias of the heart. Two classes were devoted to resuscitation, using the life size doll "Resusianne", furnished by the Arkansas Heart Association. By holding periodic reviews such as this, Hempstead Memorial Hospital hopes to offer the best in intensive coronary care through the use of trained personnel and modern equipment.
